INTERNATIONAL ASSOCIATION
FOR YOUTH
TRANSPORTATION SAFETY

The issue of safety in youth transportation is so important that it requires that we collate the various steps undertaken by people who are preoccupied with this problem as well as the expertise of many organizations from different countries. That is why the Association Nationale pour les Transports Educatifs de l'Enseignement Public (ANATEEP, France), l'Association du Transport Ecolier du Québec (ATEQ, Canada), la Fédération Belge des Exploitants d'Autobus et d'Autocars (FBAA, Belgium), la Federación de Trabajadores de la Enseñanza de la U.G.T. (FETE-UGT, Spain), as well as the AAA Foundation for Traffic Safety (United States) created the Association internationale pour la sécurité du transport des jeunes (AIST).

WHO IS AIST...

The AIST promotes the quality and safety in the transportation of youth. It involves individuals, organizations, associations and private enterprises or public corporations, at the local, national or international level, who are committed directly or indirectly to youth transportation. It is a non-governmental, non-profit-making, international association for youth. French, English and Spanish are the official languages of this Association.

COMMON GESTURES

The AIST encourages the exchange of information and experience sharing between the organizations and contributes in the development of reliable transportation to the benefit of youngsters across the world. Furthermore, it influences politics and government decisions as well as the public opinion, while providing technical assistance to the national or international organizations. The AIST arouses and supports any legal activity that could have a bearing on the development and maintenance of safety in youth transportation. Finally, the AIST collaborates with the organizations of developing countries with regards to all initiatives seeking the safety in youth transportation.

PROFILE OF THE MEMBER

The persons, organizations and enterprises wishing to become a member of the Association may do so by selecting one of the following membership categories: Regular member-individual, Regular member-legal entities and Associate member. A regular member-individual is any person who endorses the goals and objectives of the Association. This person has a right to be convened to the general meetings, to speak, vote and act as a committee member. A Regular Member - Legal entities is an association, organization or enterprise whose goals and objectives are compatible with those of this Association. The Regular member - legal entities can come from two different categories, depending on if its activities are local or regional wide or if they are national or international wide. Two representatives of a Regular member - legal entities have a right of speech and to vote at the general meetings.

An Associate Member is a person or legal entity that provides products or services related to youth transportation and who endorses the goals and objectives of the Association. Each of its two representatives has a right to be convened to the general meetings and may be authorized by the chairperson to speak, but cannot vote nor act as a committee member.

SERVICES THAT SUIT YOU ...

The AIST periodically prepares and distributes a magazine exposing the main measures projected in a variety of countries to improve the quality and safety of youth transportation. We find in it, among other things, articles relating to research and development of safety in youth transportation, to education, to drivers' training, to cooperation mechanism, to the regrouping of transporters, to parents and others, etc. Furthermore, the Association organises an international convention every second year at which convention all new ideas with regards to safety in youth transportation may be presented. It also provides its members with an information bank to enhance the knowledge of its members and promote the regrouping of these members.
